Introduction

In August of 2005, Congress passed the Safe, Accountable, Flexible, Efficient, Transportation, Equity Act: A legacy for Users (SAFETEA-LU), reauthorizing the surface transportation act. As part of this reauthorization, grantees under the New Freedom Initiative, Job Access and Reverse Commute (JARC) and Elderly and Disabled Transportation Program (5310) were required to meet certain planning requirements in order to receive funding. Federal transit law requires that projects selected for funding under the various programs be “derived from a locally developed, coordinated public transit-human services transportation plan” and that the plan be developed through a process that includes representatives of public, private, and non-profit transportation and human services providers and participation by members of the public. In 2006, counties prepared plans meeting the federal requirements. It is now required that the 2006 plans be updated and the purpose of this document is to serve as the 2008 updated plan.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) in collaboration with a workgroup of Regional Planning Commission planners developed a new transportation coordination planning process for the 2008 update based on the final guidance on coordination from the Federal Law SAFETEA-LU. The Pierce County transportation coordination plan includes assessments of available services, gaps in service and service needs for individuals with disabilities, older adults, and people with low incomes. From the assessment data, a transportation coordination plan with implementation strategies has been developed.

Coordination Planning Process – Public Meeting

A multi-county meeting, including a broad range of representatives from Barron, Chippewa, Eau Claire, Dunn, St. Croix, and Pierce counties, was held on July 23, 2008, with over 50 persons in attendance. (The meeting invitation letter, invitation list, attendance list, the meeting agenda, and meeting summary are included in Attachments A through E, respectively). The meeting was opened with a discussion of the demographics of the region, including elderly, disabled, and low-income persons, their location and distribution throughout the west central Wisconsin counties. The coordination process, which was held in 2006, was summarized and service gaps and needs were updated. A wide range of strategies for coordination of services were presented and the group provided input on the need for regional coordination, and developed strategies to pursue on a regional level in the coming years. By county, the attendees updated and addressed local strategies and action plans. The final product is a plan for the individual county, which includes the regional goals and action items, as noted.

Demographic Information

An important component of the planning process is the analysis of the Pierce County’s demographics and associated trends. Table 1 illustrates the County’s Age 65+ population and projects the future population out to the year 2030. As the information demonstrates, the county’s Age 65+ population will increase by more than 200% by the year 2030. Such an increase will significantly increase the demand for public transportation and demonstrates the need to plan in advance for such increases. Pierce County’s rural landscape will also factor into how future transportation services will meet the increasing demands.

Table 2 illustrates the County's median household income and poverty rate. As illustrated Pierce County's median household income is 16% greater than the State and the County's poverty rate is 3.6% lower than the State of Wisconsin's. Pierce County recorded a poverty rate of 7.7% as of the 2000 Census. Pierce County is fortunate that its residents as compared to the State of Wisconsin live in more favorable financial conditions. This trend will more than likely result in less demand for future public transportation services as compared to other areas of the State. However, the financial conditions certainly do not entirely negate the future needs of the counties aging population.

Pierce	$53,911	7.3%
Wisconsin	$46,142	10.9%

Table 3 shows a breakdown of percent of disabled persons in the County by two age categories and the number of disabled persons ages 21-64. In Pierce County there are 1,469 disabled persons between the ages of 21-64. The percent of disabled persons age 65+ in the County is 17%. If we utilize the projection of the Age 65+ population for the Pierce County from Table 1 and multiply that by the County's current rate of disabled persons ages 65+ it can be projected that by the year 2030 the County will have close to 1,807 residents that will be Age 65+ and disabled.

Pierce	1,469	7.0%	22%	17%

Table 4 illustrates the commuting patterns of Pierce County workers. As the information demonstrates approximately 41% of County residents work in Pierce County while 59% travel out of the County for employment. The data substantiates the need and importance of regional transportation coordination as a large percentage of employees are leaving the County for work.

Assessment of Available Services

In order to conduct an assessment of available services, information was requested from transportation providers in Pierce County. A total of 3 provider response forms detailing the service provided were returned. Provider response forms are attached as Attachment F.

The Pierce County ADRC in conjunction with the Office of Aging is the main transportation provider in Pierce County. Services provided include meal/nutrition site transportation, medical transportation, and some social/recreational transportation. The services are provided through a volunteer driver program and a mini-bus/van program. In assessing the available services, the challenge that continually faces Pierce County is the geography of the county and funding. The County for the most part is very rural and providing transportation services to a rural area is not only challenging but expensive. In assessing the available services a couple of issues arose. First the existing fleet of vehicles that are utilized to provide services will need to be replaced in the next 2-4 years. Secondly, based on meeting input transportation for low income employed/unemployed individuals is needed and current services are unable to meet this ever increasing demand.

Identification and Analysis of Service Gaps and Service Needs

At the transportation coordination meeting a general discussion among meeting participant's focused on identifying service gaps and needs. The gaps and needs identified were derived from the experiences of the meeting participants and from a review of demographic data for Pierce County. The information collected is listed below.

Needs:

- Continued funding (local, state, and federal)
- Vehicle replacement (Pierce County Transportation fleet)
- Overall regional (multi-county) coordination and improve on interagency coordination

Gaps:

- Low income residents and their ability to get to work (the county has vehicles but not sufficient funds to operate for employment purposes)
- Rural area, geography affecting home delivered meals and all transportation needs

In general, Pierce County does an adequate job of meeting the needs of the County's population. However, as illustrated there are service gaps and needed services in the County. The items listed are challenging however, based on meeting input it is believed that improved coordination of local services and becoming involved with regional coordination efforts will go a long way in addressing the unmet and increased needs of the County. It was mentioned how recent utilization of New Freedom funds has increased services for dialysis patients and residents needing specialized medical vehicles. The next section of the plan "Strategies and Actions" lays out in general how the service gaps and service needs can begin to be addressed.

Pierce County Strategies and Actions

The following five year action plan was developed based on input and experiences of attendees at the transportation coordination meeting. It is important to point out that roadblocks to implementation of the strategies have been identified. For the strategies to be successful the roadblocks will have to be overcome. In numerous cases the roadblocks are not locally controlled, meaning that in order for local and regional coordination to be truly successful rules, policies, and requirements of numerous non-regional entities will have to be modified or changed.

Conclusion

Pierce County does an excellent job in providing transportation services and options for its residents. However, the County recognizes that improvements can be made and by implementing the ideas illustrated in this plan and improving regional coordination will assist the County in improving transportation services, thus further meeting the needs of the County's residents.

Dear Friend of Transportation:

As many of you may know, funding under a number of transportation programs - Elderly and Disabled Capital Assistance Program (Section 5310), New Freedom Initiative, Job Access and Reverse Commute (WETAP/JARC) requires that projects be a part of a locally developed coordinated public transit-human services transportation plan. In 2006, county meetings were held to develop the required plans. Since the 2006 meetings, final guidance on coordination has been issued requiring that we meet again.

Rather than just seeing this as a “requirement”, we are hoping that we can all see it as an opportunity to improve our transportation systems through regional coordination and access to additional funding to provide needed services. The focus of the 2008 coordination process developed by WisDOT is on multi-county and regional plans. For many reasons apparent to all of us, it just makes sense to bring together the counties of Chippewa, Eau Claire, Pierce, and St. Croix in this planning effort. The Center for Independent Living for Western Wisconsin (CILWW), with the help of West Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (WCWRPC), is hosting what we hope will be a meeting to guide us toward further coordination and improved transportation services for persons who are elderly, disabled, or of low income, in and between our counties.

We need your help. The coordination process requires participation from a wide range of transportation providers (public, private, non-profit), human service providers, county board members, and members of the public. To make it a productive meeting, and to assess the needs of our counties and the region, we need you there. Please do not let your agency/company’s views go unrepresented. If you cannot make it, send another representative, if at all possible. The meeting is scheduled for:

Wednesday, July 23rd
8:30 a.m. – noon
Wisconsin Job Center – Dunn County
401 Technology Drive
Menomonie, WI

PLEASE RSVP BY JULY 18TH (whether you can attend, or not), by calling Kyle Kleist or Denise Larson at 715-233-1070, or 800-228-3287, or by email at kleist@cilww.com or larsond@cilww.com.

Thank you for your help in this important effort.

Sincerely,

Tim Sheehan
